

ELF WIZARD I

“So you clothe yourself in steel and cured leather, jab pointy sticks at your enemies, and think yourself mighty? Fool. My weapons are the building blocks of creation, the forces of the universe. Seek not to impress me with muscle and bone.”

Little about your demeanor or appearance would suggest that you are a professional adventurer. Your fine clothes are evidence of your privileged upbringing, your speech hints at your impressive education. Yet adventure is the surest, if cruelest, method of refining your arcane skills, as adversity traditionally allows one to reap the greatest benefits. Let those of limited scope spend their time poring over worn tomes from the safety of a library. You crave the arcane knowledge of past eons long forgotten, and the means to achieve the heights of untold glory of which you have always dreamed.

BACKGROUND (NOBLE)

You were raised wanting for nothing, giving you a clarity of purpose that outweighs pedestrian survival. You know that your potential is limitless, and you aim to make use of your god-given talents.

Position of Privilege. You are welcome in high society, and people assume you have the right to be wherever you are. The common folk make every effort to accommodate you and avoid your displeasure, and other people of high birth treat you as a member of the same social sphere. You can secure an audience with a local noble if you need to.

Faction. You are a member of the Lord's Alliance, a group of allied political powers concerned with mutual security and prosperity.

Personality Trait. No one could doubt by looking at your regal bearing that you are a cut above the unwashed masses.

Ideal. It is your duty to protect and care for the people beneath you.

Bond. The common folk must see you as a hero of the people.

Flaw. You too often hear veiled insults and threats in every word addressed to you, and you are quick to anger.

You can use an arcane focus as a spellcasting focus for your wizard spells.

You can cast any wizard spell in your spellbook as a ritual if that spell has the ritual tag.
