A detailed illustration of a character from Magic: The Gathering, specifically Niv-Mizzet, the Archmage. He is shown from the waist up, wearing a white tunic with intricate gold patterns and a black belt. He has a shaved head with a single red streak, red eye makeup, and a small earring. He is holding a large, ornate staff or sword hilt with both hands, looking off to the side with a serious expression. The background is a dark, ruined cityscape with greenish-yellow light filtering through the ruins.
