

BATIRI

The Batiri are goblins. Nasty, thieving, squabbling, sneaking, and bloodthirsty, the Batiri exist in separate tribes that are all ruled by a single goblin queen. In order to rule such a motley mob, the goblin queen must defeat any challenges to her throne, and because of this, she's a ruthless, and dangerous adversary.

Each Batiri tribe worships some jungle creature that the goblins fear—usually an evil spirit or toothy dinosaur—and they adorn themselves to look as fierce and as large as possible.

"I wants all the shiny bits."
