

GAVONY CATHAR

Humans have always been hunted on Innistrad®, but the days are growing shorter and we all know the horrors that stalk the night. The angels are gone. No one is left to defend us. It's past time for humanity to start protecting itself. So grab a sword, and together we will end this unnatural darkness.

VOLDAREN VAMPIRES

There's nothing quite like nightfall on Innistrad®, wouldn't you agree? The concealing shadows, the chill in the air, and the scent of fear so palpable you can practically taste it on the breeze. The night is our time, and soon it will be everlasting! All we require is a trinket forged from moonsilver. Discover this key, and the vampire bloodlines shall feast for eternity.

THE DAWN HART COVEN

Eternal night threatens to overtake Innistrad®. If that night falls, humanity falls with it. But we who draw strength from light and life can still drive back this tide of darkness. At the heart of the Ulvenwald lies an ancient place of power: the Celestus. There we will revive the ritual of Harvesttide and restore the balance between day and night once more.

TOVALAR'S HOWLPACK

Hooooooooowwwwwwwl!
You hear that, friend? It's the call of the hunt. Each night is longer than the last, and our kind grows strong. The howlpack already gathers in the woods of Kessig, and soon we'll take our rightful place on Innistrad®: the top of the food chain. You'd best join us before the choice prey is taken!
